

U. S. CALLS WAR HEROES TO SERVE ON TASK FORCE

Stassen Tells U. N. Of Disarmament Study to Avert World War III

The U. S. announced that it had called out of retirement some of its top World War II heroes to seek means for disarmament and head off World War III, including Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith, now vice chairman of the American Machine and Foundry Co., to inspecting and reporting methods for army and ground units.
